From the Pastor's Desk.....

Today is the Second Sunday of Easter or Divine Mercy Sunday. During the Easter season, our first reading will be from Acts of the Apostles; it is normally from the Old Testament. Acts, written by Luke, begins with Pentecost and traces the early church. Recall how Peter suffered from the habit of putting his foot in his mouth; worse, recalled his inflated promises to Jesus that crumbled the minute Peter sensed danger for himself. Now, he is an esteemed leader, renowned among believers and non-believers for the power of God that flows through him. We're told today that his shadow is enough to heal. He has been completely transformed by the resurrection. On Divine Mercy Sunday these stories told in Acts demonstrate God's mercy. Forgotten is Peter's betrayal. The growth of the early church testifies to the teaching of Peter and the apostles who were totally transformed by the resurrection. Also at work is God's mercy which turns hearts into fertile ground for the seed of the gospel.

Apocalyptic literature, like the Book of Revelation, is foreign to us. Our readings will come from here for the next five weeks. Apocalyptic literature always involves a revelation or unveiling of some hidden truth about the future. But to unveil it, this style of writing employs highly symbolic language—a "code" that is difficult to decipher. Created to offer comfort and hope to people suffering persecution, apocalyptic writing assures readers that God will ultimately triumph over evil. John, its author, had been exiled to the Greek island of Patmos, a trial which helps others suffering in the name of Jesus to identify with him.

In our gospel, John focuses on physical details of the resurrection. The disciples are hiding in fear because they have lost their anchor and fear for their safety. When Jesus appears, despite locked doors, he is telling us that the resurrection is not a spiritual resurrection but a physical one. And then he "breathes on them" just as God first breathed on Adam, initiating a new creation. By having Thomas absent, John is again showing how doubt about this resurrection can be dispelled; again, with physical evidence. The gospel concludes with Jesus chiding Thomas about his unbelief, transformed to believe because he has seen Christ. Jesus praises those who will believe "but not have seen."

We have been doing a great deal of work on the rectory over the past two years to get it up to snuff, so to say! All of the exterior mortar was pointed, much replaced, etc.; the eaves and all of the windows painted outside; new shrubbery around the entry; central air; re-wiring the house; etc. Just as I thought we were caught up, you may recall that the kitchen ceiling came down several months ago! That is now repaired and I was ready to take a breath only to discover that a window fell out on the second floor. It seems we have 8 windows that are in very bad shape and need to be replaced. I'm getting bids and will then have the Finance Council look at them and decide what we should do. The original windows are over a hundred years old and in incredibly good shape. However, several were replaced at some point with plastic windows which are not well built and have completely collapsed. Those we have to replace.

Seven St. Patrick parishioners are going to receive the Sacrament of Confirmation on April 23rd at St. Peter's Cathedral. They are Peter Bloomstine, Emilio Filippi, Taylor Gushie, Juliette Morales, Daniel Scutella, Lauren Scutella and Caralyn Wilcox. They have each spent the last year preparing for the sacrament, have written a letter to Bishop Persico telling him why they want to receive the sacrament and each have a personal interview with me as part of the preparation process. I know you all join me in congratulating them. They have all given a great deal of time and effort to prepare for this moment and we need to applaud them. Unfortunately, Confirmation is being administered at the cathedral on a Saturday afternoon at 4 PM and I won't be able to join them.

Thank you to all who are supporting our annual Catholic Services Appeal. The response is incredible; I just hope more parishioners would be willing to step forward with a pledge in any amount whatsoever. You can see in the report the percentage of parishioners who are participating. Our assessment this year is $64,000 (up from $46,000 last year!) and I am able to keep anything above that for the parish. We use the extra funds to pay down the debt on the restoration of the church.

In addition, this year we need some extra funds to cover the costs of the repairs which we are undertaking on the Stations of the Cross. I had mentioned that some of the wooden bases are cracking, there is a broken finger on one, there is some paint peeling, etc. Those statues were hand-carved out of wood between 1892-95 and need constant attention. Unfortunately, one of the stations had a Roman soldier with a whip in his hand, and someone stole the whip. It was there for over a hundred years, but now has disappeared, and we're not going to be able to replicate it, so we will restore without it.

At their recent Parish Council meeting, we agreed to offer coffee and donuts after some of the Sunday summer Masses this coming summer. Knights and Ladies of St. Patrick are going to host one or more and the Young Adults group is going to do the same. We'll gather on the lawn between the church and the rectory.

Two elderly gentlemen from a retirement center were sitting on a bench under a tree when one turns to the other and says, "Slim, I'm 83 years old now and I'm just full of aches and pains. I know you're about my age. How do you feel?" Slim responds, "I feel just like a newborn baby." "A newborn baby?" asks his friend. "Yes," Slim replies. "No hair, no teeth and I think I just wet my pants."

Divine Mercy Sunday

*On February 22, 1931, a young Polish nun, Sr. Faustina Kowalska, saw a vision of Jesus with rays of mercy streaming from the area of His Heart. He told her to have an image painted to represent this vision and to sign it "Jesus, I trust in You!" Jesus also requested that the Sunday after Easter be officially established in the Church as the Feast of Mercy: On that day, the very depths of My tender mercy are open. I pour out a whole ocean of graces upon those souls who approach the fount of My mercy. (Diary, 699)

The offertory for the week of March 20th was $ 835 and the offertory for Easter Sunday was $1,053. Thank you and God Bless!

The Catholic Service Appeal campaign is well underway, as of now, we have $6,025 in pledges. Our goal is $10,910. Whatever is pledged beyond will stay in our parish. Thank You!

166 DAYS TO THE IRISH FESTIVAL

IDENTICAL TWINS, CONNECTED AT THE HEART

If it's true the Lord loves a cheerful giver, then he's got double the love for Kathleen Wehan and Eileen Balczun—twins, identical down to their generous temperaments and big hearts, It would be easier to give you a list of things Kathleen and Eileen don't do around the parish and in the community—the list of what they do is long and impressive: Food pantry, rectory office., Ladies of St. Patrick, special collections for needy families, and the chairpersons of the Grand Raffle. Starting in February, they sell Raffle Tickets. Weekend, after weekend, after weekend, (and year after year), they set up booths and tables at events around town and sell raffle tickets for the festival. And they refer to this hard work as an "honor to help the parish." It's a major source of income and we couldn't run the festival without it or them.

The twins go way back with the church. Their maternal grandparents came from County Cork and were part of the founding group of St. Pats and 4 generations of their families have been baptized here.

This year's raffle hopes to be bigger and better than ever—the winner may choose between an all expense paid trip for two to Ireland, or $3000 in cash. You'll get your chance to help in July when the 800 families of St. Patrick's will get an envelope in the mail with raffle tickets to either sell or buy. You will make these ladies' day, week, month, and year if you all respond to the raffle request. SLAINTE!

Eileen and Kathleen can be found, along with husbands Paul and Jim, most Sundays at 10:30 Mass, right side, 3rd pew from the back—season ticket holders! You can't miss them—you'll think you're seeing double! Offers of help or expressions of gratitude may be sent to Kathleen at papajames5x@yahoo.com or Eileen at westy4818@yahoo.com.

Gary and Becky Johnson, Festival Chairs, can be reached at gjohnson@brotolocsouth.com or beckykij@neo.rr.com. You can still donate jewelry and purses by dropping them off at the church gift shop.

A Family Perspective
 Second Sunday of Easter—
 Divine Mercy Sunday

Jesus connects PEACE and FORGIVENESS in today's gospel. In our families we will only experience peace to the extent we forgive one another. Peace is purchased with the currency of forgiveness. When we allow our anger and pride to lock out others, we also lock out peace and harmony.

Child Protection and Creating Safe Environments

Child Abuse Prevention Month

April is designated as Child Abuse Prevention Month and there is no better time than the Easter season to celebrate the protection of our most valuable gift from God—our children! Parents, guardians and adults who care for children face constant challenges when trying to help keep them safe in today's fast paced world. The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC) offers easy-to-use safety resources to help address these challenges. Visit the NCMEC web site at www.missingkids.com and check out the helpful topics. Watch this space in the coming weeks for tips on how to create safe environments for children and youth! To see what the Diocese of Erie is doing to keep children and youth safe, check out <http://www.eriecd.org/protectyouth.htm>.
