From the Pastor's Desk...

Today is the Fifth Sunday of Lent. The first reading encourages the chosen people to look forward to the day of their liberation from exile in Babylon. It recalls the exodus from Egypt but, more so, God's voice sets the present generation on the road to Jerusalem and the future. The new exodus will be even more marvelous than the previous one; God will again pave a highway, and the wilderness will be transformed into a paradise, where wild animals will honor their creator and the chosen people will drink from abundant streams.

The event on the road to Damascus (recounted in Acts 9) transformed Paul. Elsewhere he stressed the power of God's graces; here he gives his personal assessment: "I consider everything as a loss because of the supreme good of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord." Paul desires to be fully identified with Christ, conscious that he will not achieve this by his own efforts but by God's grace and "righteousness" or "justice." This justice is illustrated in today's gospel, when he tells of grace extended to the adulterous woman, who is a figure of God's people. The new justice to which Paul refers is exercised through the restored relationship that springs from merciful love. Adhering to Christ means giving up self-sufficiency "that I may gain Christ and be found in him, not having any righteousness of my own based on the law but that which comes through faith in Christ."

On Mt. Sinai God engraved the ten commandments on two stone tablets. In today's gospel, the evangelist tells how the Son of God writes on the Palestinian soil. Hoping to trap Jesus, some Pharisees and scribes present a woman caught in adultery to Jesus, insisting, "Now in the law, Moses commanded us to stone such women, So what do you say" They were right. The law condemns the woman and her partner to death. Jesus does not argue with them, but raises the argument to another level. He reinterprets what God wrote on the tablets of the law: "Jesus bent down and began to write on the ground with his finger." Jesus traces in the topsoil the new law of grace. And look at what he wrote, not a list of sins, etc., but the new law "Love your neighbor as yourself" or "Do not judge and you will not be judged." In the woman, Jesus recognizes the people he came to save. She is Israel of yesterday, the people not always faithful to God; and she is the church of tomorrow, whom Jesus loves and for whom he will sacrifice himself, to release her from slavery to sin. Jesus came not to judge, but to forgive and save.

The Diocese of Gallup, New Mexico has joined a growing number of dioceses in the West who are moving Confirmation to the day of First Communion. Bishop James Wall noted that Confirmation is a Sacrament of Initiation, as is Baptism, and they need to be linked much closer together. "Receiving the Sacrament of Confirmation long after the reception of Holy Communion, tends to weaken the understanding of the bond and relationship that the Sacraments of Initiation have with one another," wrote the bishop. He also added that "An alarming percentage of our Catholic children who were baptized and received First Holy Communion, do not continue their formation for the Sacrament of Confirmation, and in too many cases, never receive the Sacrament."

I can tell you that my experience here is that more and more of our young people are opting not to receive the Sacrament of Confirmation which is now offered in their junior year of high school. At that level of school, their schedules are already full and they do not want to add all of the time that is necessary for the preparation for the sacrament. If you look at the annual diocesan report on sacraments, you will see a noticeable decrease in the number of confirmations. In more and more of the couples I marry, I often find one or another has not been confirmed. Pope Francis has asked that bishops move Confirmation to the day of First Communion.

Over 1,000 new Russian Orthodox parishes opened this past year, an average of 2-3 a day. In addition, 40% of Russian school children choose to take the course, "Foundation of Orthodox Culture" as part of their education. There are also 182 more Russian Orthodox bishops than 10 years ago. The church estimates that at the current rate of growth, the number of parishes in the Russian church would double within 25-30 years, reaching levels not seen since the revolution. If you're my age or older, you remember the old Latin Mass, at the end of which we always prayed for the conversion of Russia. It's happening. Those prayers worked.

Eric Albright, Festival chair, asked me to put a note in the bulletin asking if anyone has a warehouse with empty space where we could store a lot of the festival things. We have been purchasing kitchen equipment so we don't have to rent it; but our problem now is finding enough space to store all of it.

Due to recent changes in tax law, it may be beneficial to you to consider making a donation to the parish through a Qualified Charitable Distribution (QCD) from your Individual Retirement Account (IRA). A Qualified Charitable Distribution is a direct transfer of funds from your IRA to a qualified charity under Internal Revenue Code 501 ©(3). You must be age 70 1/2 or older to be eligible to make a QCD. QCD's are limited to the amount that would otherwise be taxed as ordinary income. This excludes non-deductible contribution IRAs. The maximum annual amount that can qualify for a QCD is $100,000. This applies to the sum of QCDs made to one or more charities in a calendar year. For a QCD to count towards your current year's requirement minimum distribution (RMD), the funds must come out of your IRA by your RMD deadline, generally Dec. 31st. This current year we have a number of parishioners who made a one-time contribution out of their IRA to cover their weekly contributions as well as the CSA. You might want to talk to your tax advisor about this.

In ancient Greece, a man came running up to Socrates with gossip he's heard about Diogenes. "Before you tell me," interrupted Socrates, "are you sure that what you are to tell me is true?" "No," admitted the man. "Is what you are about to tell me about Diogenes something good?" "No, but he..." "Will this news benefit me?" "No, but Diogenes ..." "If what you want to tell me is not true, not good, and of no benefit, why tell me at all?" The man walked away in shame. And that's how Socrates never found out that Diogenes was fooling around with his wife.

A Family Perspective—

Stoning is not just an ancient act of violence. Each day in our homes we throw stones of ridicule, criticism, name-calling and putting downs. All of it is deadly. Hear Jesus in today's gospel: "Whoever is without sin can throw the first stone." Rid your home of violence. Stop verbal stoning!

Child protection and Creating Safe Environments Child Abuse Prevention Month— Preventing Child Abuse is Everyone's Responsibility:

It is every adult's moral responsibility to protect possible victims by reporting the suspected abuse or neglect of a minor to the responsible authorities. Sexual abuse of minors is a pervasive societal problem, and only concerted and sustained efforts by all adults in every segment of society can help to protect children and youth. To report suspected abuse of a minor, call Childline at 1-800-932-0323 (anytime 24/7). To see what the Diocese of Erie is doing to help maintain safe environments, visit

If you are disabled and cannot walk to receive communion, please help the Eucharistic Ministers by putting a white stole on the end of the pew, (The stoles are available in the vestibule on the bookshelf.) AND please sit at the end of the pew so you are more visible to the ministers.

All are welcome to participate in the Benedictines for Peace Good Friday Pilgrimage for Peace April 19 beginning at 11a.m. at St. Peter Cathedral, W. 10th and Sassafras Streets, Erie. The suffering caused by the climate crisis and the need for effective environmental action will be the focus of prayer and reflection at the following stops; Griswold Park, the Federal Building, the stage at Perry Square, the Governor's office at Second and State Streets, and the tip of Dobbin's Landing. There also will be a water blessing ritual at the fishing pier on the west of lower State Street. Between stops, participants will walk in silence on a route through the city.

A chartered bus will be available for those who choose to ride for all or part of the pilgrimage. For those returning to Mount St. Benedict at the end of the pilgrimage, the bus will be available at W. 10th and Sassafras.

Dear Parishioner –

Easter Sunday will be celebrated on April 21, 2019. As you know, we observe this feast with great celebration and festivity as it marks the dawn of eternal life for each of us.

In addition to the liturgy and some outstanding music, the church itself is decorated to note the solemnity and the rejoicing that is consistent with the celebration. Those decorations will include Easter Memorial flowers in the sanctuary.

If you wish someone to be remembered in these flower memorials, please complete the listing below and return it to the parish office NO LATER THAN FRIDAY, APRIL 12, 2019 so these names can be included in the parish bulletin. An offering is optional.

Sincerely,

Monsignor Henry Kriegel
